

CITY OF ELK GROVE
CALIFORNIA SENATE BILL 330 (HOUSING CRISIS ACT) PRELIMINARY HOUSING DEVELOPMENT APPLICATION

INFORMATIONAL AND PRELIMINARY-APPLICATION SUPPLEMENTAL CHECKLIST

INTRODUCTION AND PURPOSE

California Senate Bill 330 (SB 330), the Housing Crisis Act of 2019 became effective January 1, 2020. The bill declares a statewide housing emergency until January 1, 2025. The Housing Crisis Act allows for an applicant to submit a preliminary application for any housing development project, as such term is defined in Government Code Section 65589.5(h)(2).

SB 330 provides eligible housing development projects seeking discretionary approval enhanced streamlining and vesting opportunities through a process initiated by the filing of a preliminary application. Subject to Government Code Section, 65589.5(o)(2), (6), (7) and 65941.1(d), a housing development project will be subject only to the ordinances, policies, and standards adopted and in effect when a preliminary application is submitted. A preliminary application is deemed submitted when an applicant has provided to City with all of the information required by Government Code Section 65941.1(a). A checklist for the required information and material for a preliminary application is set forth below.

APPLICABILITY

A project must be a housing development project, as defined in Government Code Section 65589.5(h)(2), in order to qualify for the preliminary application process. A housing development project includes the following:

- a. Residential units only;
- b. Mixed use development consisting of residential and non-residential uses with at least two-thirds of the square footage of the project designated for residential use;
- c. Transitional housing or supportive housing.

The applicant has two options to start the review process: (1) contact the Planning Division of the City's Development Services Department for a preliminary application meeting, and submit a complete preliminary application checklist at the meeting; or (2) submit the preliminary application checklist with a Planning Application and Agreement form to the Planning Division when formally submitting the application for the associated project/entitlements. Please note, a preliminary application meeting or submittal of a preliminary application checklist prior to the submittal of a formal project application for entitlements is not required, but highly recommended by Planning Division Staff.

Once a preliminary application is received and deemed complete, the ordinances, policies, and standards in effect as of that date will remain applicable to the project for the duration of the review and entitlement process, subject to exceptions provided by law, provided that all the following provisions are satisfied:

- J The project may not increase by more than 20 percent in the number of units or total square footage ("building area" as defined in California Building Standards Code- Title 24) indicated in the preliminary housing development application, exclusive of any increase resulting from the receipt of a density bonus, incentives, concession, waiver or similar provision.
- J A complete project application must be submitted and accepted by the Development Services Department within 180 days of submission of the preliminary application checklist.
- J If the City determines, within 30 days of receipt of the preliminary application, that the application is not complete, and so advises the applicant in writing within that 30-day period, then the applicant shall submit specific information needed to complete the application within 90 days of the request for additional information. If the additional information is not provided within this 90-day period, the, the preliminary application shall expire.
- J The project must commence construction within 30 months after the date of final approval, as defined in Government Code section 65589.5(o)(2)(D), meaning that the project has received all necessary approval to be eligible to apply for, and obtain a building permit or permits and either of the following is met:
  - o The expiration of all applicable appeal periods, petition periods, reconsideration periods, statute of limitations for challenging that final approval without an appeal, petition, request for reconsideration or legal challenge has been filed
  - o If a challenge is filed, that challenge is fully resolved or settled in favor of the housing development project.

Housing Development projects that have not filed a Planning Application and Agreement prior to January 1, 2020, may submit the preliminary application checklist along with the Planning Application and Agreement.
